

UT College of Law
Center for Advocacy & Dispute Resolution
Skills Series

The Fine Art of Advocacy— Strategies from a Master Advocate*

January 31, 12:20
including LUNCH
Room 132

Charles L. Becton

- *Recipient of the Nation's 3 top advocacy awards
- Named to "The Best Lawyers in America" since 1983
- Taught trial advocacy across USA, in Canada, and in the Republic of South Africa
- Member, Becton, Slifkin & Bell, Raleigh, NC
- Faculty, UNC and Duke Law Schools

"Your voice can be music to jurors' ear if you speak with passion. . . . Without passion there can be no compassion."⁺

"Use your voice to punctuate, to emphasize and italicize, to highlight and underscore, and to accent and print in

"Eloquence is no substitute for preparation. If you have not mastered the facts and legal arguments, your voice will not make a difference."⁺

⁺Quotes from Becton in "Using Your Voice," and "Thou Shalt Be a Wordsmith— Shakespeare, the Master Wordsmith"